

FAASTeam presents:

Operations During Winter Months and Why Pilots Lose Control

Hosted by the FAA Safety Team (FAASTeam) from the Albany Flight Standards District Office (FSDO), and presented by FAA Safety Team Representatives, Melodie Viele and Charlie Rockwell. this seminar will cover information of interest to all pilots. It will inform the audience of recommended operating procedures during winter months, and encourage pilots to do proper pre-flight inspections, adequate aircraft heating and know deicing procedures.

This seminar will also cover the FAASTeam Topic of, "Loss of Control." The most fatal maneuvering flight accident involves stalls or spins. Regular proficiency training is the most effective way for pilots to reduce accidents. Maneuvering while at a low-altitude, and aerobatic flight are two of the highest areas of risk. This—and more—will be covered in this month's seminar and you'll receive WINGS credit for attending!

Directions: The Aviator Restaurant is located adjacent to the FBO at the Floyd Bennett Memorial Airport (GFL). Prior to attending a Safety Seminar, please review and abide by current state and CDC local guidelines.
